NYSPHA's Mission

NYSPHA is a statewide organization working to improve the public's health and to achieve equity in health status for all. We promote "best practice" in public health and advocate public policies to promote healthy people in healthy communities. NYSPHA emphasizes prevention and enhances the ability of individual and organizational members to promote and protect environmental and community health.

The New York State Public Health Association (NYSPHA) is one of the oldest, independent, nonprofit, non-governmental public health organizations in the United States. It is the only broad-based New York State organization exclusively devoted to promoting and protecting the public's health.

As an affiliate of the American Public Health Association (APHA), NYSPHA works to influence policies at the regional, state and national levels. NYSPHA strives to promote health and prevent disease, injury, and disability. NYSPHA represents all disciplines, consumers and specialties in the public health spectrum.
